Bird Cage Beddings

Benefit of a Bird Cage Bedding.
Keeps Floor Clean From Birds
Waste & Seeds

As a pet parent, you know that a clean cage is essential for the well being of birds. Captive birds spend a lot of time in their cages. Paper beddings on the bottom of the bird cage has a pretty stright forward job. It collects the things like dust, dander combined with daily bird droppings and scatterd food particles that land there paper pellets makes clean-up simple.

IMPROPER CLEANING CAN MAKE THE CAGE AT RISK OF DEVELOPING VARIOUS BACTERIA, VIRUSES, AND MOLDS THAT CAN ADVERSELY AFFECT BIRDS HEALTH

Which Rodent Suits You ?

Guinea Pig

Guinea Pigs are social animals and should always live in pairs as they can become depressed alone. They like to be handled and groomed. They love to eat hay & dandelions !

Gerbils

Gerbils can make great family pets but they do require regular handling so they will become tame and familiar with human interaction.

Hamsters

Hamsters are solitary creatures but they're also quite affectionate, In general, they do better on their own. They're nocturnal and love dried mealworms, and prefer wheels and tunnels to play in.

Bunny Beddings

M.R.P : ₹400/-

HOW TO SUCCESSFULLY LITTER TRAIN YOUR BUNNY

YES, YOU CAN LITTER TRAIN YOUR BUNNY ! JUST LIKE CATS. IT WOULD BE MUCH EASIER TO LITTER TRAIN NEUTERED OR SPAYED RABBITS AS THEIR NEED TO BE TERRITORIAL IS REDUCED.

BASIC LITTER BOX SETUP

- Line the bottom of the litter box with paper pellets about 2 inches deep. Avoid wood shavings as they are harmful to rabbits respiratory system. Also avoid clay base cat litter as these could cause bowel blockage.
- Rabbits graze & poop at the same time, to encourage Your rabbit to hop in to the litter box , place fresh hay Directly over the paper pellets.
- Keep the litter tray clean, change the beddings Twice a week.

LASTLY, GIVE YOUR RABBIT
LOTS OF LOVE & PATIENCE !

WHY DO RABBITS EAT THEIR OWN POO ?

TO GET AS MUCH GOODNESS AS POSSIBLE FROM THEIR FOOD.

Rabbit eat large quantities of low quality Feed and perform a digestive process called Caecotrophy. They produce soft moist droppings (caecotrophs) as well as hard, dry waste pellets. Rabbits eat caecotrophs directly from their bottom, allowing food to be re-ingested and provide them with more nutrition
